

Service Offers

On site - Assistance

On site assistance from experienced service engineers. Advanced engineering analysis from developers and system integrators available on request.

Remote assistance

Remote assistance for troubleshooting and operations. Use of statistics and trending for root cause analysis.

OTA - update

Over The Air software updates. The unit will always have the newest software available.

Communication

Service reports, logistics, procurement of spare parts and root cause etc will be handled by a dedicated team of service professionals.

Training

Training of users & operators to maximize the benefits of zero emission solutions.

